

Simpsons going healthy?

The change 4 life advert will sponsor the Simpsons...sometimes!

The change 4 life advert has decided that it would be appropriate to put the TV advert in front of the comedy show. They think it will put through a better image.

The advert mirrors the family on the sofa and replaces the junk food with carrots and other fruit and vegetables. Maybe it will stop people living like the Simpsons do!?

New sponsor

The whole point of it is to encourage people that it's wrong to live like they do.

Mother worried about her sons killer being someone she knows.

Thirty year old George was killed last year and the murderer has still not been found.

Mrs.Devonish was not told about her sons death. she was rung up at work and had to tell his young son. She commented that know one ever expects to have to tell there grandchildren that one of there parents are dead. Forensics show that who ever did it wore Nike air max shoes about twenty-five years old, about 5ft 6 and tall and stocky build.

George and son kaine

Detectives said that it was probably meant to be robbery as there was stuff that had been stolen like phone, gold chains, keys and his laptop. It is very sad and nerve racking for the family.

There is a service for family and friends to commemorate his life.
